

ZIMO

ESTABLISHED 1979

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF DIGITAL INNOVATION

ZIMO is a true pioneer of digital control for model railways. Founder Peter Ziegler launched his first system, known as 'Multi Train Control', in 1979. During the intervening 40 years, the company has expanded steadily, employing cutting-edge technology and innovative design to allow for miniaturisation and increased functionality. Today, ZIMO is a leading supplier of DCC equipment, specialising in decoders. More than 100 different designs, including sound, encompass every size and connection type. With all manufacturing undertaken in its own factory in Vienna, the company has earned a reputation for high quality. ZIMO decoders are known the world over for their unrivalled silky-smooth motor control.

Once the 'best kept secret' of a handful of experts, ZIMO has grown rapidly in the UK over the last few years under the stewardship of RAIL EXCLUSIVE. It is Britain's fastest-growing DCC brand thanks to a select band of dedicated retailers and sound engineers. Simply put – value for money, reliability and great customer service make ZIMO decoders hard to beat. You, as a valued customer, are part of this success story. We appreciate your loyalty and support.
